A Fair Housing Seminar

with Nadeen Green

“Let’s Go to the Movies” and let’s learn about fair housing! Using movie posters, Nadeen Green (Senior Counsel with For Rent Media Solutions) will weave cinematic titles into important fair housing topics. As always, her program will present real world issues and real world solutions, with plenty of time for your questions. There are bad actors in the apartment industry who believe in “Closed Doors” for certain people, which is “Senseless” and which can lead to a charge or a “Civil Action”. “Taking Care of Business” means knowing about fair housing...the curtain goes up at 9am on March 18th.

Nadeen Green has been an attorney since 1979 and has been teaching Fair Housing law to the multi-family housing industry since the Fair Housing Amendments Act went into effect in 1989. Her many programs (more than 800) have been presented to apartment management companies and state and local apartment associations nationwide, and she has been asked to speak several times for the National Apartment Association and Multi-Housing World annual conventions. She also writes “reader-friendly” articles on Fair Housing which are made available throughout the industry. Nadeen is proud to be Senior Counsel with For Rent Media Solutions™ which provides our industry with valuable print and on-line advertising opportunities nationwide. As past president and long-time board member of her local bar association, Nadeen has had the opportunity to serve as a judge for mock trials and has taught high school students about career options in law. She is also the author of two children’s books.
